V. Employees (Please skip if your program does not have employees)

United Charitable implemented a new Performance Management system in 2015. We created our 5-year strategic objectives, as well as shorter term interim goals for 2015, in order to reach these objectives. As a Program Manager, your program's mission and your employees' individual goals are critical to meeting United Charitable's strategic objectives. (We will include space in next year's Annual Report, asking you to assess and report on these individual goals. Were they met? If so, describe. If not, why not?) We would like to ask you to think about goals for yourself and each of your employees for 2015 and include them in Section V of this year's Annual Activity Report. Talk to your employees and collaborate on what you both think they should be for this year. You are asked to check in regularly with your employees during the year to assess whether the goals you set are realistic and achievable, or if new and unexpected work was added to your program, and the goals need to be tweaked. In any case, you will be asked to report on those goals next year. There are no right or wrong answers. It's simply a monitoring system. We expect that this structure will help keep United Charitable on track for living up to our overall mission statement, “To make philanthropy accessible to people wanting to make a difference by providing comprehensive management of charitable programs and donor-advised foundations on a community, national, or global level."

- Please list all payroll employees (including yourself).
- Please list 2-3 personal goals for each employee which are relevant to and will support the overall goals for your program in 2016.
- Please report on each employee's progress in relation to their 2-3 personal goals for 2016, as reported in last year's activity report submission.
